Torque Superwallet offers a convenient inter-exchange crypto trade with the lowest fees. Exchanges differ in design and functionality, which sometimes make it difficult to create quick orders. You do not have to hire programmers to write bots for automatic trading, or constantly look out for trading opportunities. We will handle the trades in an automated mode.

FULLY-AUTOMATED LOW RISK TECHNIQUES

Our proprietary trading systems and techniques revolve around the ideology of market neutrality with arbitrage trading being the core strategy. We only execute low risk profitable trades accurately, every time.

Operating 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, Torque Superwallet is constantly scanning for opportunities to trade. Once it identifies an accurate and low-risk trade, it will automatically fire an immediate trade.

SIMULTANEOUS TRADING

ARBITRAGE

Arbitraging is a common strategy used in trading. In the cryptocurrency market, there are many inefficiencies due to poor or lack of regulatory framework, market supply and demand, lack of support from banking systems and barrier of entry for new exchanges.

There are many price differences occurring across exchanges and coin pairings. Torque aims to build a network of resources by utilizing the crowd to benefit from these arbitrage opportunities.

Torque Alpha - Arbitrage Bot

HIGH FREQUENCY TRADING

SCALPING

Another largely used intraday strategy in trading, Scalping typically makes lesser profits per trade but by executing a vast number of small trades, it will still add up to a substantial profit. This strategy is largely based on technical analysis, but more importantly, a robust algorithm that can consistently and swiftly execute accurate trades within a short timeframe to profit from the small price changes.

With usage of low latency and high frequency connection setup, we can execute up to 10 trades per millisecond.
